ABOUT THE ORGANIZATIONS

Since 1917, 4-H has shaped the lives of thousands of McHenry County youth. The goal of 4-H is to develop citizenship, leadership, responsibility and life skills of youth through experiential learning programs and a positive youth development approach. There are several ways youth may participate in the 4-H program, including: Community Clubs, 4-H SPIN Clubs, and even a Cloverbud program for children ages 5 to 7.

McHenry County Club Town Inc. was formed in 1946 to promote and advance agriculture, home economics, 4-H and community interest within McHenry County. It owns and operates 7 acres of land within the McHenry County Fairgrounds. The organization provides facilities for club meetings, shows, and activities of agriculture and home economics. Club Town also makes financial contribution to U of I Extension in support of their 4-H program.

McHenry County Farm Bureau Foundation was formed in 2000 to help fund efforts that build greater awareness and understanding of agriculture. McHenry County Farm Bureau Foundation currently supports agricultural education through events and programs like Ag in the Classroom, Ag Expo, and the Summer Ag Institute for teachers. The foundation also provides resources and educational materials that are utilized at the County Fair.
